Extraordinary Christmas Sales!

We all grumble at the slowness of the revival in business, but a comparison of the sales of our store for the fifteen days preceding Christmas shows a very great gain since 1893, the year of the panic.

Our sales for those fifteen days this year over 1895, show a gain of two per cent.

This year over 1894, a gain of thirty-five per cent.

This year over 1893, a gain of one hundred and five per cent.

Our store is always a favorite shopping place for Birthday, Wedding and Holiday gifts, for we always show such an enormous and such an artistic assortment of articles suitable for such uses that few ever think of purchasing elsewhere.

FOR SENATORSHIPS.

Republicans in the Sucker State Cannot Agree On a Candidate.

Larimore and Mason Both Claim to Have Enough Votes—Other States Will Select Senators.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 18.—There is no way in sight yet for untangling the big snarl over the United States senatorship. Many of the candidates and their lieutenants sat up till time for the second crowing of the cocks this morning, discussing the situation, but the question is as far from being settled as it was before Martin B. Madden withdrew. The hotels are packed to the corridors with guests. Nearly all the members who went home after the adjournment Friday have come back. Interest in the race is increasing hourly.

The arrival of Congressman Hopkins from Washington and his declaration to be a candidate has added a new feature to the race. None of the old candidates have withdrawn, so his entrance lessens the chances of settling the fight on the first ballot. Mr. Hopkins opened his headquarters at dawn today ready for the politicians who arrived on the early trains.

It is not yet determined whether W. J. Calhoun will be a candidate. He and his friends are keeping a close lookout and it will not be surprising to have him enter the field at any time.

So far as known only two republican members will be absent from the joint caucus tonight. They are Senator Monroe, who was called to Tennessee on important business, and Representative Morrill, who was summoned to Kansas to attend a sick brother. Mr. Monroe is a business partner of Martin B. Madden, who withdrew from the race. If these two remain away the number of votes necessary to nominate will be reduced to 62.

Today Larimore's friends claim sixty-six votes—thirty-one from Cook county and thirty-four outside, which, should Morrill and Monroe not return, is three more than enough. Mason's friends claim more votes than Larimore, while the other candidates each maintain that no man has enough to nominate. The belief that the matter will not be settled at the caucus continues to grow.

Should the matter be forced into the joint assembly some of the democratic members say that after a complimentary vote for ex-Governor Altgeld, many of their number would take a hand in helping out some of the republican candidates. This proposition has caused consternation among some of the republicans. They say it might result in the selection of a man not wanted by a majority of the party. On this account there will be a most serious effort to settle the fight in joint caucus before balloting in the assembly begins Tuesday. The republicans are strong enough to force an adjournment each day after a perfunctory ballot is taken so as to line up to the requirements of the law. In this event they will meet in caucus daily after adjournment of the joint assembly and continue to do so till a nomination in caucus is made. This can be done if the different factions work together, but if any considerable number want to settle it in joint assembly they can do so with the aid of the democrats.

Governor Tanner has not yet taken any part in the fight, at least he has made no declaration to that effect so far as the public knows.

AFTER PEFFER'S SEAT.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 18.—Very little business of importance will be transacted by the Kansas legislature till after the settlement of the senatorial question. The dozen candidates for Mr. Peffer's place are all on the ground. Harris, Breidenthal, Peffer and Dennison are regarded as the leading candidates. A careful review of the situation ten days ago indicated that Peffer was in the lead. At the opening of the legislature it looked as if Breidenthal had the whip hand. Now Colonel Harris seems to be in the lead, though none of the other managers are making concessions.

MITCHELL WILL WIN.

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 18.—In case the house does not organize today no vote for United States senator can be taken before Tuesday, February 2. Senator Mitchell has received the caucus nomination and if a vote could be taken he would undoubtedly be chosen on the first ballot. Jonathan Bourne, populist, candidate for speaker, holds the key to the situation with his twenty-four populists and democratic votes, and until the Mitchell men withdraw their candidate for speaker and allow Bourne to be elected, the latter says he will not permit the house to organize. Mitchell is unable to throw his support to Bourne for speaker because several of his men have threatened to leave him if he allows a populist to be chosen speaker.

FUSIONISTS WILL CAUCUS.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 18.—A sufficient number of signatures has been secured to insure the attendance of a majority of the fusionists of the legislature to a conference tonight and there is a diversity of opinion regarding the outcome of the meeting. Many believe the conference will resolve itself into a nomination caucus and that before adjournment the next United States senator will be named. This is highly improbable, however, as none of the different factions are now in favor of making the caucus binding unless it is Judge Turner.

CANNON WANTS TO BE SENATOR.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Representative Cannon, of Illinois, who is one of the aspirants for Senator Palmer's seat in the senate, left Washington today. It is supposed that he has gone to Springfield to take part in the canvass personally, and he will be the fourth member of congress on the field, his rivals being Messrs. Hitt, Hopkins and Larimer. In conversation with some of his colleagues Mr. Cannon has expressed considerable confidence that he might be selected as a compromise candidate if it became evident that William Mason could not secure the necessary majority.

AFTER THE VANDALIA

Does the Railroad Owe the State School Fund Money?

The House Unanimously Adopts a Resolution to Investigate—Attorney-General Will Be Added.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 18.—A resolution was today unanimously passed by the house to investigate the long standing charge that the Vandalia railroad owes the state school fund a large sum of money. A committee of three from each house, with the attorney general as chairman, is to investigate and report within ten days. There was little discussion and the vote was by roll call. Representative Henderson, a republican, introduced the resolution and a democratic representative seconded it.

CLOSED THEIR DOORS

Two Kentucky Banks Fail to Open For Business.

The German National, of Louisville, and the First National, of Newport—The Failures a Surprise.

NEWPORT, Ky., Jan. 18.—The failure of the First National bank of Kentucky to open its doors this morning was a great surprise to the business men of the city. While a statement was given out by the officers that no one would lose anything, there were all sorts of rumors flying about. Fortunately the integrity of the officers is such that no suggestion of wrong doing has found credence. The first evidence of weakness was the refusal of the officers to pay on Saturday afternoon $5,000 to the treasurer of the Bellevue school board, which he had but recently deposited, and which he had been advised he ought to get out. This was not made public till today. Cashier T. B. Youtsey has been with the bank since its organization in 1875. The capital stock of the bank is $200,000. Its president is John Trapp; vice-president, Joseph Wright. President Trapp, who was elected last week in place of Dr. Henry Gunkel, who retired on account of advanced years, is a resident of Dayton, Ky., and is one of the wealthiest men in the county.

ANOTHER AT LOUISVILLE.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 18.—National Bank Examiner Escott this morning closed the doors of the German National bank, J. M. McKnight, president. The capital stock of the institution is $251,500, with a surplus of $31,000. The bank is an old one, but for some time past has been regarded as unsafe.

The last statement issued by the bank December 17, 1896, made a very bad showing. The figures showed that the 25 per cent. rule had been violated by about 66 per cent. Under the item resources it was given out that the bank held $113,950,39 in securities, stocks, etc. This was very unsatisfactory, as the "stocks" was not considered definite enough, and since the statement was issued the withdrawals have been steady. President McKnight, of the bank, for years has been prominently identified with the banking business and involved in a number of outside financial operations.

In a signed statement President McKnight says the depositors will be paid in full and that it is probable that the stockholders will reorganize the institution.

FILES A DEED OF ASSIGNMENT.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 18.—The Minnesota State Savings bank closed its doors this morning and filed a deed of assignment, naming William Bickel assignee. An affidavit was filed stating that the assets would amount to about $250,000 while the liabilities are in the neighborhood of $230,000. The officers of the bank deemed this step the best under the circumstances to protect the depositors. The recent flurry in banking affairs caused the withdrawal of deposits to such an extent that, although the bank required the sixty days notice, it was unable to raise enough ready money to meet demands.

A LITTLE SON

Arrived at the Home of Countess Castellane at Noon Today.

PARIS, Jan. 18.—The Countess Castellane, formerly Miss Anna Gould, gave birth to a son at noon today. Mother and child are doing well. Miss Gould was married to Count Castellane on March 4, 1895.

WHAT AMERICANS DO

Eleventh Census Shows Occupations of the American People.

An Increase of 5,000,000 Working People in a Single Decade—How They Are Divided.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Much interesting data about the occupations of the American people is given in a delayed bulletin of the eleventh census, which has just been furnished the press. It shows that the total number of people engaged in occupations of all kinds in 1890 was 22,735,661. This is an increase of over 5,000,000 working people in a decade. This whole number of working people consists of those ten years old or over and makes up over 36 per cent. of the entire population and almost 47 per cent. of all persons ten years old and over. Of the whole number of working people the females form 17.22 per cent. Divided by classes the working people of the country are as follows: Agriculture, fisheries and mining, 9,013,336; professional, 944,333; domestic and personal service, 4,360,577; trade and transportation, 3,326,122; manufacturing and mechanical industries, 5,010,293. The domestic and personal service includes hotel keepers, soldiers, sailors and marines, laborers, barbers, detectives, etc. The first named class is a ten years' gain of over a million, or of almost 3,000,000 for a score of years. Considerable more than four-fifths of the illiterate male population of the country and over one-fourth of the illiterate female population are working. Over 59 per cent. of the working men are married, over 39 per cent. single, over 3 per cent. widowers and one-quarter of one per cent. divorced. Of all foreign whites at work here, 14 per cent. of the males and 13 per cent. of the females can not speak English. There is an element of 8½ per cent. of the men employed in domestic and personal service who cannot speak English and almost 6 per cent. in the manufacturing and mechanical industries.

Manufacturing and mechanical embrace the largest number of females who cannot speak English—over 4 per cent.—with domestic service a close second.

In Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut the males engaged in manufacturing and mechanical industries in 1890 constituted very nearly one-half of all men in gainful occupations. In twenty-four states and territories, including all in the south central and most of those in the north central and south Atlantic divisions, the males engaged in agriculture, fisheries and mining constituted more than half of all the working males. Of the females at work by far the greater proportion were found in domestic and personal service in a large majority of the states and territories. In manufactures and mechanics the carpenters and joiners, numbering 611,482, make up the greatest element, with dressmakers and milliners following with 499,690. There are a little over one million bookkeepers, clerks, salesmen; 68,658 merchants and dealers; 5,281,557 farmers, planters and overseers, and 3,004,061 agricultural laborers; 349,593 miners, and only a little over 60,000 fishermen and oystermen. Professors and teachers aggregating 347,344 form the most numerous of the professional classes. Physicians and surgeons, 104,805 come next; lawyers, 89,630; clergymen, 88,203; government officials, 79,664; musicians, etc., 62,155; engineers and surveyors, 43,239; artists and art teachers, 22,496; journalists, 21,849, and actors, 9,728.

NEW MEDICAL SPRING.

Numerous Cures of Rheumatism Alleged to Have Been Effected.

RICHMOND, Ind., Jan. 19.—North of this city about two miles, on what is known as the Reed farm, there is a spring that is attracting attention from physicians and citizens. The water is said to have rare medicinal properties, and the black mud found about the spring is alleged to have caused many wonderful cures during the past few months. Mr. Reed, the owner of the spring, makes no charge whatever for the water or mud, and hundreds of gallons are taken away each month by citizens of Richmond. There are a number of prominent people here who attribute their complete cure of rheumatism to the use of this remarkable water, and to the application of the mud upon the afflicted parts.

ACCUSED OF MURDER.

Indiana Farmer Arrested at Green Bay, Wis., for Killing His Wife.

ANDERSON, Ind., Jan. 18.—B. Vanhoorebeke, a farmer near this city, was placed under arrest in Green Bay, Wis., yesterday under orders from Sheriff Starr, of this county. The charge is murder.

Mrs. Vanhoorebeke died very mysteriously the first of the week, and was interred without ceremony or delay. Vanhoorebeke left the next day for Green Bay to take charge of $20,000 of property in her name that was by marriage contract to revert to him at her death. Friends of Mrs. Vanhoorebeke, who knew that her death meant $20,000 to him, began an investigation. After three days' work, Sheriff Starr late last night swore out the warrant. They found he has been brutal to his wife and has been intimate with Mattie Peitz. The wife protested, but was threatened with death or being locked up in an asylum if she persisted.

It is learned from the Peitz woman that it was Vanhoorebeke's intention to marry her as soon as Mrs. Vanhoorebeke was out of the way. Miss Peitz, the officers say, has confessed that he made an assault upon Mrs. Vanhoorebeke last Sunday that was fatal. The body will be exhumed.

NO EXTRA SESSION

Of the Legislature to Be Called, Says Governor Mount.

The Work Must Be Done in Sixty Days Or It Will Not Be Done At All—There Are Enough Laws.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 18.—There will be no extra session of the legislature. Governor Mount has decided that.

While the governor is not indulging in open criticism of the legislature, it is known that he is not entirely pleased with the way in which the lawmakers, especially those in the house, have been frittering away the time. He intimates that whatever lawmaking there is to do must be done within the sixty days or it will not be done at all.

"I do hope," said the governor yesterday, "that the members will take care of the time and not adjourn over when they should be at work. Time is too valuable to be wasted."

"Then you do not intend to call an extra session?"

"The members need not bank on an extra session," said the governor with a positiveness that left no doubt as to his meaning.

"I am afraid that there is going to be a multiplicity of bills," the governor went on. "The bulk of laws should be lessened instead of increased. There is also, it seems to me, danger of a multiplicity of bills covering the same subject matter. There are only a few good laws that the state needs."

THE MINERS' STRIKE

Governor Adams Trying to Arrange for a Settlement.

Several Mine Owners Have Gone to Leadville to Confer With a Committee of the Miners.

DENVER, Col., Jan. 18.—D. H. Moffatt, the heaviest mine owner of the Leadville district, has gone to the camp in response to a telegram from Governor Alva Adams, who has established headquarters, until he can reach a conclusion as to the continuance or early termination of the strike. Mr. Moffatt was accompanied by several leading mine owners of Leadville. Governor Adams has desired that the Miners' union make some definite proposal for a settlement and this he intends to submit to the mine owners. It has been suggested, it is understood, that such a proposal should have in it certain concessions and that the original demand should be modified. The miners union has appointed a committee of three with large powers for the settlement of the trouble. The water in the Maid of Erin mine, where the great pumps were stopped Saturday, has risen over sixty feet and the working drifts of the Wolftone are flooded, causing a stoppage of work. The lessee of the Wolftone had just broken into a body of rich ore from which they would have been able to hoist fully $1,000 worth per day, but they had refused to pay $1,500 per month for pumping, and are now drowned out. The Mahala and several others now producing heavily will soon be flooded.

A sacred concert by the Cathedral choir will be given in the Cathedral on the evening of January 21, when the church is seen to its best advantage, illuminated by 500 electric lights. The main object of the concert is to give to the public in general an opportunity of seeing the interior of this grand edifice since the alterations and improvements have been completed. The total cost of these improvements was about $45,000, the proceeds from the concert will go towards this fund. The music to be given will consist of about twelve numbers of the choicest kind; two selections will be taken from the mass that was given at 10:30 a. m. on Christmas day, which are of an exceptionally grand character; the other numbers will be of a different nature but equally as good and most of them will be sung with English words. If this concert were to be given free, the seats would all be taken up so quickly, that a great many worthy people would not be able to secure a seat; a charge therefore of 25c is to be made for admission, and 50c for reserved seats in the center aisle; not so much to raise money, but so that desirable and appreciative people can obtain seats. Tickets for the concert can be purchased at the bishop's residence, Louis Jacquel, A. C. Auronlz and the People's store.

Card of Thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Richards and family desire in this manner to express their thanks for the kindness of their neighbors and friends during the sickness and death of their daughter, Anna.

Reports from the bedside of Mrs. A. B. White are to the effect that her condition is much the same. Her physicians hope there is a slight change for the better.

Henry Seeling, the East Wayne street grocer, who has been seriously ill, is now convalescent.

CONSIDERING LAWS.

Probable Program of the Indiana Legislature.

A Caucus To Be Held Soon—Political Measures—The Centennial Project—Two-Cent Fares.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 18.—It has been suggested to the leading senators and representatives on the majority side of the general assembly that better results might follow if there were more joint work by the committees of the two branches. Many of the older members regard the present system as cumbersome. In each house there have been introduced numerous bills relating to every subject of importance with which the general assembly is called to deal. The suggestion is that if the educational committees of the two houses, for instance, would meet jointly and agree upon a compulsory educational bill to be recommended to each branch, a law could probably be made while each committee, acting independently of the other, is working on the numerous bills on the subject before it. The same rule, it has been suggested, might be followed in the preparation of an anti-trust law that would "hold water." There are before each committee on corporations several anti-trust bills, and those members who really wish to see some legislation on the subject believe it would be wise for the two committees to get together, and with all the bills offered in both houses before them, recommend a bill for the consideration of each branch.

POLITICAL MEASURES.

While the majority members know in a general way about what they wish to do, they have not yet met in caucus to determine definitely just what legislation they will favor. There will probably be a caucus on this subject within the next week or ten days. It is a foregone conclusion that one of the bills to prevent fusion as it was accomplished between the democrats and populists at the recent election, will be speedily passed.

The majority members foresee that it will not be an easy task to make a legislative apportionment law which will meet the requirements of the supreme court and at the same time satisfy the members. Every legislator is anxious to see that his county is "well taken care of," and is always inclined to refuse to support any bill that does not please him. Up to this time all the apportionment bills have originated in the house. The committee has three bills before it—one made by Representative Littleton, of this city; one by Representative Babcock, of Lagrange, and one by Representative Smith, of Tippecanoe. Lawyers who have looked over the bills say they have all been prepared with care. It is not yet clear that the state will be reapportioned for congressional purposes. The congressmen-elect will have something to say about that, and the understanding at this time is that they are, as a rule, satisfied with the present apportionment.

FEES AND SALARIES.

It looks as if the body will not do more with the fee and salary law of 1895 than cure the defect in section No. 126, and pass a bill for the relief of the county commissioners who have allowed treasurers' and auditors' salaries without any reference to the provision of the law. But county officers in many parts of the state are importuning their senators and representatives to start the business of increasing salaries. Several bills for increases are already on file, and others are to come.

So far the centennial scheme has not made its appearance in either house. The recommendations of the commission were received in the house at the time Governor Claude Matthews delivered his message, and that was the last heard of them. Talks with many senators and representatives leave the impression that the scheme has few, if any, supporters on either side of the general assembly.

There is another subject of which no mention has been made in either house since the retiring governor presented his message, and that is the alleged debt of the Vandalia Railroad company to the state.

TEMPERANCE LEGISLATION.

It is evident that there will not be much, if any, temperance legislation. Both democrats and republicans are in favor of leaving the Nicholson law alone, and it does not seem probable that any effort to secure its repeal will be made. Representative Nicholson will insist that his bill to abolish the quart shop be pushed through. It is a notorious fact that the temperance committees were made up with the end in view of preventing legislation, but Mr. Nicholson believes that bill will run the gauntlet of the committees. The temperance committee in the house, to which the bill was referred, has not yet held a meeting. Nicholson's friends say that unless the committee speedily takes action on his bill he will ask leave to withdraw it from the committee and send it where it will receive consideration.

There are a good many members of the house who are in favor of passing a two-cent railroad fare bill, but the general impression is that such a bill will not become a law this session. Representative Hicks, of this county, who is in the employ of the Big Four, is already doing all he can to have the two-cent rate bills before the railroad committee killed. "I am against it," said he, "because the employes will have to suffer the loss such an act would put upon the companies."

A TRAIN WRECKER

Alleged to Have Been Arrested at Eastman, Georgia.

It Is Believed That He Has Confessed to Wrecking a Train in Which Twenty-six Lives Were Lost.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 18.—The statement is given out by the sheriff that a Hungarian tramp named Sam Palatka, has been placed under arrest at Eastman, Ga., on the charge of being one of the men who wrecked a Birmingham mineral train at Cahaba river bridge, December 27, whereby twenty-six lives were lost. Deputy Sheriff James Ball has gone for the prisoner. The principal evidence against Palatka is the alleged fact that he told persons at Eastman of the wreck and described it very vividly. This directed suspicion to him by Eastman authorities and when the information was wired here his arrest was ordered. It is rumored that he has made a confession.

FORMAL ELECTION.

Charles W. Fairbanks Will Be Chosen Tomorrow.

Democrats Will Show Their Respect For Senator Voorhees by Giving Him Their Votes.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 18.—Charles W. Fairbanks will be elected United States senator tomorrow at noon. The senate and house will vote separately, and on the following day will meet in joint session to canvass the vote and proclaim, formally, the election of the new senator. The democratic senators and representatives will nominate Daniel W. Voorhees in caucus tonight and will cast their votes for him tomorrow.

Declared Unconstitutional.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The supreme court of the United States has decided that portion of the South Carolina dispensary law providing for the inspection of liquors imported into the state to be unconstitutional.

The Green Garnet.

Within the past 20 years a new and very beautiful stone has been introduced in jewelry. It is the green garnet, sometimes called the "Uralian emerald," being found in the Ural mountains. George F. Kunz, the gem expert, says of it, "It varies in color from yellowish green to an intense emerald color and has such a power of refracting light that it shows a distinct fire, like the diamond or zircon, and in the evening has almost the appearance of a green diamond."

Case Dismissed.

"I charge this man with arson," shouted the excited fat man to the surprised court.

"That's a very grave charge, sir. What evidence have you?"

"Plenty of it, your honor—plenty of it. He fired me bodily down two flights of stairs and out of the building."

"He may have fired you, but you admit his putting you out. Next!"—Detroit Free Press.

WORKED THE MASONS

Another Secret Society Fraud Strikes the Town.

Runs Up Against the Wrong Person and Is Landed in the Station—Police News.

Richard A. Pardon, is a smooth individual who may or may not have once been a member of Masonic orders. No doubt he once was and has been dropped from the rolls, for one reason for another, but still knows enough of Masonic signs and customs to be able to pass himself off on the unsuspecting.

Pardon struck the town a few days ago and began to use his Masonic knowledge for the purpose of soliciting funds for personal use. Much cash he secured this way before he struck the wrong man, but at last he did ask a trifling loan of a business man who is an adept in the most obscure details of Masonic usages who spotted him for a fraud. Pardon was promptly arrested and was in a cell at the police station over Sunday. The charge against him was obtaining money under false pretense, but this was changed to vagrancy and after imposing a fine of $11.40, acting Mayor Huser gave the fellow one-half hour to leave the town, as none of his victims had appeared to prosecute.

Charles Andrews who was caught climbing on trains by a Pittsburg detective was sent to board at the expense of the county for a few weeks.

Charles Daniels, arrested by Officer Weller for intoxication went to jail and Austin Sallenberger who stole brass was remanded to jail, the case being continued until tomorrow morning.

Shows a High Death Rate for the Week Just Past.

Seventeen Persons Called to Render an Account of Their Stewardship—Other Deaths and Funerals.

William Geisleefer, the well known saloonkeeper, whose place of business was near the Driving park, died Saturday night, after a comparatively short illness. He was thirty-eight years of age and the cause of death was dropsy. The funeral will be held Wednesday at 8 o'clock from the residence.

Leo, the eight-year-old son of John Snelzer, died at his home, 207 Hanna street, yesterday of diphtheria. The funeral was held this afternoon.

Mrs. Elizabeth Beahrs, wife of John Beahrs, a Nickle Plate watchman, died of heart disease yesterday. The funeral will be held Tuesday at 1:30 from the residence and 2 o'clock from St. Paul's Lutheran church, Rev. Lange officiating.

The death rate for the week ending Saturday last was more than usually high. Seventeen houses were entered and made desolate by the great destroyer. The list is as follows:

Victor Huguenard, 2 years old, kidney complaint.

Aloysius Renner, 60 years old, paralysis.

Elizabeth Rumpus, 48 years old, dropsy.

Rose M. Kuhlbach, 1 month old, spasms.

John Cahill, 74 years old, inflammation of stomach.

John F. King, 71 years old, neuralgia of heart.

James A. Blount, 69 years old, paralysis.

William Baverforden, 35 years old, pneumonia.

Gladys Dukeman, 3 days old, exhaustion.

Gustave F. Yergens, 35 years old, hemorrhage of lungs.

Frederick Heine, 68 years old, inflammation of the bladder.

Child of Adelbert Edmunds, stillborn.

Albert Gillert, 5 months old, convulsions.

John Harrnett, 36 years old, complication.

Anna Richards, 14 years old, sciatic rheumatism.

Farris Thabit, 38 years old, malarial fever.

John Berry, 23 years old, epilepsy.

OBITUARY NOTICE.

John Cahill, mention of whose death was made in Saturday's SENTINEL, was born in County Erin, Ireland, about the year 1825. He left Ireland December 31, 1847, on board a sailing vessel and arrived at Charleston, S. C., March 17, 1848. In 1856 he went to Australia, where he engaged in digging gold, many thousands of dollars worth of which he washed and sold. In 1862 he went to Liverpool, where, on the 22d day of May of the same year, he was united in marriage to Miss Anna Fulton. Later Mr. Cahill moved on a farm in Canada, remaining there until 1872, when the property was disposed of and a farm in Allen county purchased, upon which he lived until a few years ago, since which time he has lived in this city with his daughter, Mrs. D. L. Byers. During his last illness he was removed to St. Joseph hospital, where he was cared for by the sisters and his son, Ed. Cahill, and daughter, Mrs. D. L. Byers. He leaves seven children, all of whom are grown. The remains were taken to the Byers home, 184 Oakland street, from where the funeral will be held Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, and at the Cathedral at 9:30. Interment in the Catholic cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Sibley, entertained the "Penoshle" club last evening at dinner and will entertain this evening at a card party. The occasion is the birthday anniversary of Mr. and Mr. Sibley.

A HIGHER COURT

Will Decide the Charges Against H. N. Collinberry.

Death Continues Forever the Cases Against Him, Which Were To Be Tried at Auburn Today.

A telephone message was received early this morning from Garrett, Ind., announcing the sudden death of H. N. Collinberry, at his home, where he was guarded by the officers of the sheriff. The news quickly spread on the streets here and has been the general subject of conversation in Fort Wayne all day, as Mr. Collinberry, who was formerly a resident of this city, has many friends and the recent trouble in Dekalb county has been largely discussed. The rumors have been to the effect that Mr. Collinberry committed suicide but the facts now known do not by any means prove this. On the other hand, Mr. Collinberry, as is well known by his friends here, was subject to heart disease and it seems very probable that his recent troubles have aggravated this ailment.

The death of Mr. Collinberry has closed forever one chapter in the sensational developments of alleged embezzlement by county officers in DeKalb county. The law does not pry behind doors that death has closed. Mr. Collinberry is known to Fort Wayne people principally as the former yardmaster of the Wabash railroad at this place. Later he was made trainmaster of the Eel River division of the Wabash and resigned that office to take a position as trainmaster of the Baltimore and Ohio with headquarters at Butler. It was while a resident of Butler that Mr. Collinberry was elected auditor of DeKalb county, and while he was still in office he started the Bank of Garrett.

The recent disclosures of corruption in DeKalb county have been reported previously in THE SENTINEL. Mr. Collinberry was arrested January 1 on the charge of grand larceny and embezzlement and gave bond in both cases. Saturday last he was re-arrested on five indictments returned against him by the grand jury. One indictment charged him with forgery while another alleges that he embezzled by raising a county order from $2 to $200.

Ex-County Treasurer David W. Fair had commenced suit against Mr. Collinberry for $10,000 alleged to have been deposited in the bank at Garrett as public funds and to set aside a conveyance of real estate by Collinberry to his wife. All these cases were to have come up before Judge Penfield at Auburn today, but this occurrence will change the order of things materially.

Latest reports from Garrett state that Mr. Collinbery's death occurred early this morning. The sheriff had just gone to his home to arrest him on a bench warrant. The arrest would have taken place Saturday but Mr. Collinbery asked for time to get bail. As he was preparing to go with the officer he gave a cry and fell to the floor and in a moment he was dead. The story of suicide arises from private advices received here, which say that there was a mark on the wrist of the dead man which indicated that a hypodermic injection had been taken, but this story, while not yet denied, has not yet received the sanction of competent authority. The deceased was a member of the Fort Wayne lodge of Scottish Rite Masons.

THE COURTS.

A Dull Monday in the Courts and County Offices.

Judge Dawson was in the superior court for the first time today after a two weeks' illness. He allowed a few small judgments, but no important cases were heard. The superior court jury was ordered to report Monday, January 25.

The bastardy case of Minnie Reed vs. Louis E. Teglmeyer has been certified up from Justice Huser to the circuit court.

In the superior court the Stoddard Manufacturing company brings suit against Charles W. Cook for $800 on account. Breen & Morris, attorneys.

Judge O'Rourke was today hearing the evidence in the divorce case of Amelia Doenges vs. William Doenges. Some of it is quite racy.

Bowen, the principal witness in the case against Glessner and Gruber made application to Judge O'Rourke today to have his bond decreased. The case will probably not be tried at this term of court.

County Commissioner M. A. Ferguson is in Indianapolis attending a meeting of commissioners from several counties of the state.

THE TRADE SALES.

Heavy Purchases at Less Than Cost.

We have just returned from the semi-annual furniture trade sales. We have bought our spring stock at less than it cost to produce. We shall make the spring trade very lively. Our prices will be the rule, not the exception. We expect to make the sales for the year 1897 exceed those of any year in the history of our firm.

SIXTEEN years ago in May, Mr. Thomas C. Platt, New York's new senator, made his dramatic exit from the United States senate. It was the result of the nomination by President Garfield, on March 21, 1881, of William H. Robertson, a strong Blaine man, as collector of the port of New York. Conkling and Platt violently opposed his confirmation by the senate. The midnight conference at which they determined to resign their high positions, was held at Senator Jones' house, and Vice President Arthur was present and heartily co-operated with them. They sought a vindication and reelection in Albany, but were unsuccessful. In the meantime, Garfield was shot.

Constitutional Amendment.

In order to amend the constitution of Indiana the proposed amendment must pass both houses in the form of a joint resolution. Then it must be brought up before the legislature at its next session and again in the form of a joint resolution pass both houses. When it has passed two successive legislatures it is submitted to the people at the next general election for ratification and if it receives a majority of all the votes cast it becomes a part of the fundamental law of the state.

At the last session of the legislature an amendment was passed. It provides that the supreme court shall consist of not less than seven nor more than sixteen judges, but the number must be seven, ten, thirteen or sixteen; that the state shall be divided into as many districts as there are judges, and that the districts shall be formed of contiguous territory as nearly equal in population as they can be made without dividing a county, and that one of the judges shall be elected by each district, and shall reside therein.

This is an amendment to section 2 of article 7 of the constitution. It has already been called up and is now before the legislature. It will undoubtedly pass and will be voted for by the people.—Terre Haute Gazette.

OUR LEGISLATORES.

An Indianapolis Paper Says Something Nice About Them.

The Indianapolis Sentinel had the following comments Sunday about the Allen county representatives in the lower house of the legislature:

Representative Kell, who hails from the democratic stronghold of Allen county, is a farmer, who was born in 1846. He has resided in Allen county all his life, with the exception of six years which he spent in the west. He was educated at Perry Center academy, in Allen county. He taught school, commencing at seventeen years of age. He is married and has a large family. He has large landed interests in Allen county and is secretary and general agent of the Allen county fire insurance association. He has been a lifelong democrat. Although nearly fifty-one years old, he does not look to be a day over thirty-five.

⁂

Representative Smith, of Fort Wayne, is unmarried, and withal one of the handsomest men in the house.

⁂

Representative Ryan is a bright young lawyer, who was deputy prosecutor of his home county.

SOLEMN SERVICES.

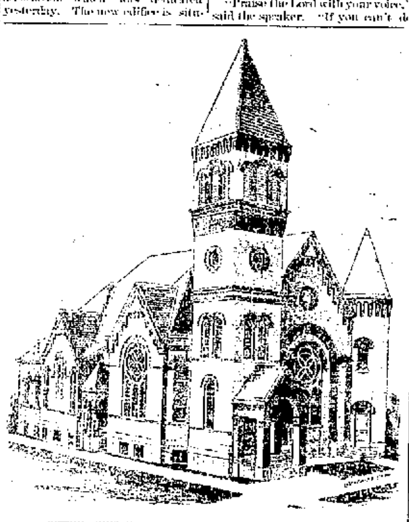
Bishop Bowman, of Chicago, Dedicates Bethel Church.

Four Sermons Preached in German and English.

Church Dedicated Practically Out of Debt.

Eloquent Divine Makes a Powerful Impression—The Morning Sermon—History of Bethel Church.

Of all the churches in Fort Wayne many of them large and imposing none is more commodiously arranged or more modest, yet beautiful in appearance than the new Bethel church of the Evangelical association which was dedicated yesterday. The new edifice is situated at the corner of Clinton and DeWald streets and as a building it is every respect an ornament to the south side. The interior of the church is very handsome and everywhere are evidences of good taste in decoration. The church is pleasing to the eye but not gawdy, decorated more for sustantial effect than show. On the whole the faithful members of the Bethel congregation who have held up the hands of their worthy pastor Rev. S. H. Baumgartner have cause to feel highly gratified over their splendid achievement and deserve the congratulation of all who rejoice over the erection of a new temple of God.



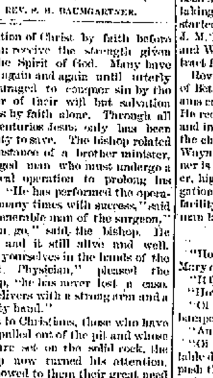
BETHEL CHURCH, CORNER CLINTON AND HOLMAN STREETS.

Bishop Thomas Bowman, of Chicago, was present to preach and to dedicate the new church. Bishop Bowman preached in English in the morning to a large congregation. The music was conducted by a well trained chorus choir, and Mr. Walter Spry, of Chicago, presided at the organ.

THE BISHOP'S SERMON.

Bishop Bowman took for his text, Ephesians, III., 14, 15, 16. "For this cause I bow my knees unto the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, of whom the whole family in heaven and earth is named, that he would cause you, according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthened in the inner man."

This prayer, the bishop declared, was one that is common to all true Christians. The need of strength in the inner man is the greatest need of humanity. Man cannot be educated into Christianity, he cannot evolve into a Christian by his own efforts, he must apprehend the salvation of Christ by faith before he can receive the strength given by the Spirit of God. Many have tried again and again until utterly discouraged to conquer sin by the power of their will but salvation comes by faith alone. Through all the centuries Jesus only has been mighty to save. The bishop related an instance of a brother minister, an aged man who must undergo a surgical operation to prolong his life. "He has performed the operation many times with success," said the venerable man of the surgeon, "Then go," said the bishop. He went and it still alive and well. "Put yourselves in the hands of the Great Physician," pleaded the bishop, "he has never lost a case. He delivers with a strong arm and a mighty hand."



REV. S. H. BAUMGARTNER.

But to Christians, those who have been pulled out of the pit and whose feet are set on the solid rock, the bishop now turned his attention. He showed to them their great need of spiritual strengthening in the conflict with the world and satan. No man is so pious that he does not need to pray for the constant help of the Holy Spirit. "I have never seen a Christian so old," said Bishop Bowman, "that the devil let him alone out of respect to his years." Continuing he said that Christians further needed the strengthening of the spirit in order to lead a happy and contented life. Christians should be the happiest people on earth and true Christians continually rejoice in the Lord.

Here the bishop related an incident which occurred in Dresden, Saxony, while he was there on a visit. The church is the only place where the law prohibites any noise whatever. After a fervid meeting conducted in quietness which evoked the protest of the police because it was a quarter of an hour past 10 o'clock, the pastor asked Bishop Bowman to make a few calls. "What," said the bishop, "the people will be in bed." "No," said the pastor, "they won't go to bed, they stay up to shout at home for they can't do it in church."

"Praise the Lord with your voice," said the speaker. "If you can't do it in church go home and shout. Another need for spiritual strengthening is for aggressive church work. The soldier of Christ should not be in the ambulance wagon when an order to advance comes from the great Captain. The manner of the strengthening is wonderful. According to the riches of God's glory is an incomprehensible measure. Pressed down, shaken together and running over is the way God measures His gifts to His children. God has promised and His promise never fails. God is not only a king but a father. The bishop appealed to the people to trust Him as a father and ended by enjoining them to be constant in the prayer of the text. If strengthened by the spirit the church can never fail.

After the sermon Rev. S. H. Baumgartner made a financial statement to the congregation. The total cost of the new church was $12,757.39, of which $9,589.81 had already been subscribed. In order to dedicate the new edifice free of debt subscriptions were opened and in less than half an hour over $2,000 had been pledged.

At the afternoon meetings enough subscription were added to put the church entirely out of debt.

CHURCH DEDICATED.

In the afternoon there were German services and at 3:30 the dedication service in English. There was singing by the choir and a solo by Mrs. C. Bessington. The solemn service of dedication was performed by the bishop, after which city pastors and visiting ministers gave greetings from their various churches. The congregation then dispersed after singing "Blest Be the Tie." At 7:30 in the evening there was another service at which Bishop Bowman delivered an able and eloquent sermon. The day was one of uplifting for the Bethel congregation and the people of that church start in on their work in their new church with every prospect of doing great good.

BETHEL CHURCH SOCIETY.

The Bethel church society was organized in this city in 1867 and worshiped for many years in the little frame church on the corner of Holman and Clinton streets. For several years it has been apparent that more commodious quarters were needed, and consequently after a sufficiently large subscription had been secured to warrant the undertaking, the new church building was started on New Year's day, 1897. J. M. E. Reidel was the architect and Walda Bros. secured the contract for the building.

Rev. S. H. Baumgartner, pastor of Bethel church, was born in Adams county, Ind., March 2, 1860. He received a theological education and in 1877 entered the ministry of the church. He has served in Fort Wayne since 1894. Mr. Baumgartner is an earnest and forceful speaker, highly esteemed by his congregation and preaches with equal facility in either the English or German languages.

Her Small Part In It.

"How did this vase get broken, Mary?"

"It fell off the pedeshtal, ma'am."

"How did you upset the pedestal?"

"Oi niver touched it. The chair bumped into it, ma'am."

"And didn't you push the chair?"

"Oi did not, ma'am. It was the table done that. All Oi did was to push the sofy up agin' the table, and goodness knows Oi can't see what's a-goin to happen that far off."—Pick Me Up.

Tea and Insanity.

Excessive tea drinking is assigned as the chief cause of the high rate of insanity in Donegal, and the theory would seem to be strengthened by the fact that there are three female lunatics to one male.

Read What His Patients Have to Say.

Three weeks ago the Munyon H. H. R. Co., of Philadelphia, sent to Fort Wayne a staff of their specialists to demonstrate to the people the entire system of curing diseases which won for this company world wide fame.

Here, as elsewhere, it has met with the hearty approval of the people, and the afflicted have crowded his office each day, rich and poor alike, and and all alike welcome.

Testimonial Letters.

Munyon's Catarrh Treatment makes a complete cure in a case of Catarrh and Complete Deafness that has baffled several physicians.

Mrs. Ed. Kline, No. 22 West Jefferson street, Fort Wayne, Ind., says:

"I was troubled with catarrh for a number of years and completely deaf. I tried several physicians, but they all failed. I began taking Munyon's Catarrh Cure and it acted like a charm from the start. In a few weeks I was entirely cured of my catarrh and deafness. Hoping this will benefit some sufferer of catarrh and deafness,

"I am respectfully,
"MRS. E. KLINE."

Two Prominent Business Men Certify.

Mr. D. F. Comparet, No. 76 East Columbia street, Fort Wayne, Ind., says:

"I was a terrible sufferer from dyspepsia. Everything I took into my stomach soured. I was troubled with constant bloating of the stomach, palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath, wind on the stomach, bad taste in the mouth, offensive breath, complete loss of appetite and heart burn, and I was completely cured of all these troubles by using Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure.

"Respectfully yours,
"D. F. COMPARET."

Mr. G. Schmidt, a prominent merchant tailor, of No. 70 East Main street, Fort Wayne, Ind., says:

"I have been a sufferer with rheumatism for years, and have tried every known remedy and consulted physicians without the slightest relief. For months I was unable to raise my arm above my shoulder until I commenced using Munyon's Rheumatic Cure, and before I had taken one bottle, to my great surprise, I could use my arm with perfect freedom, and two bottles completely cured me. I cannot speak too highly of Munyon's Remedies. I keep them in my family constantly.

"Yours respectfully,
"G. SCHMIDT."

Mr. Fred Meyer, No. 108 E. DeWald St., foreman Bass Foundry, says:

"I was so badly crippled with rheumatism that I could not get around at all without crutches. I consulted some of the best physicians of our town, and they failed to give me any relief. I was beginning to get despondent and thought I was to be a cripple for life. A friend recommended Munyon's Rheumatic Cure, and to my great surprise, on the second day after taking the above cure, I was able to walk without crutches, and in a few days was able to return to my work and in a short time I was completely cured, and have had no return of the disease. Am now taking Dyspepsia Cure, and it has benefitted me greatly. I cannot praise Munyon's Remedies too highly.

"Respectfully yours,
"FRED MYERS."

The Long Polar Night.

Generally speaking we figure Europe as being wholly within the temperate zone, but when we come to investigate matters we find that North cape, the most northerly point of Norway, is in the shadow of the north pole. At that point you can see the "midnight sun" in all his ghastliness, that great luminary being constantly above the horizon from May 5 to Aug. 6, or just one day over three months. But the long wintry night makes up for this 100 days of constant sunshine. It begins on Sept. 22 and constantly increases in length until Nov. 6, when the "polar night" commences in earnest, the sun never appearing above the horizon from the last mentioned date until Feb. 5, one day less than three months.—St. Louis Republic.

CALMNESS WAS A FAILURE.

It Was Very Well In Theory, but Didn't Work In Practice.

"Never tell me about that Hindoo preacher again," she said impatiently, "and don't you dare to say a word in his favor."

"I haven't," responded the girl in the bolero meekly, "and I'm not going to. But what has he done to you?"

"Everything—everything that a man can do. He's upset all my plans and made me miserable for life.

"You remember that lecture on calmness? It sounded lovely, but it was all bosh. I thought I'd try how the theory worked out. I was so tired of hurrying anyway. I've tried faithfully for a week or more, and everything unpleasant which could possibly happen has come to pass in that time.

"It began just the minute I got home from the lecture. Papa was in a hurry to get to bed that night, and the boys were just nervous with weariness. I can see that now, but at the time I couldn't see anything but my resolve to be calm; so I wouldn't hurry a bit, and we lost the train. They've been cross ever since and I've been miserable.

"It was the same thing next morning. Mamma wanted me to go down town with her, and I wouldn't, because I know how she hurries, and I just knew I shouldn't be calm one minute after we started. So she felt bad, and our family life has been perfectly horrid for a week.

"Then last night even Charlie went back on me. We were going to the theater, and he was waiting down in the parlor. He sent word up by one of the boys for me to hurry; but I wasn't going to break my calm after all that horrible week of trying to keep it. So I dressed just as slowly as I could, and when he remonstrated with me on the way to the car I told him that he was hindering my spiritual progress. And what do you think he said? Why, 'Darn your spiritual progress! Why can't you be nice, as you used to be?'

"Of course I wouldn't speak to him all evening unless he apologized, and when he did apologize he was so unpleasant about it that he only made me madder. So we had a miserable evening. I wouldn't have gone down town with him at all only I didn't want the folks to know we'd quarreled. And he bade me the curtest good night you ever saw when we got home again. I cried most all night.

"This morning I rode down in the same car with him, and I smiled just as sweetly as I could, but he never came near me. When we got off at Dearborn street, I hurried just a little bit and got next to him, and I said, 'Why won't you speak to me, Charlie?' and he said, 'Because I don't want to hinder your spiritual progress.'

"Well, that made me madder than ever, and I told him he need never speak to me again or come to see me, and just now as I came over from the office I saw him walking into the Saratoga with Maud Strong—and all because I followed that blessed Hindoo's instructions and 'kept calm at all hazards.' Charlie will never get over it I know, and we would have been so happy together. I wish I was dead; I certainly do!" And she flopped disconsolately down on the sofa and hid her face in the pillow again.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Did the Chinese Discover America?

The French have always been jealous of Spain because of the fact that Columbus obtained royal aid and fitted out and manned his vessels in that country. This being true, it is not at all strange that we find the French scholars at the head of all schemes which disreputable geographers have brought forward in their attempts to disprove Spain's claims to the honor of the discovery of the great western continent. As early as the first decade of the sixteenth century a Frenchman—Ruan—attempted to prove that the Welsh had visited the coasts of America several centuries before Columbus was born. Again, in 1791, another Frenchman—M. de Guignes—translated what purported to be an old Buddhistic manuscript of the fifth century. According to this manuscript, a Buddhist priest sailed eastward from China 20,000 li and discovered a continent. It is the general opinion that the priest only reached one of the small islands in the Pacific.—St. Louis Republic.

Early Dentistry.

The art of dentistry was practiced among the Egyptians and Etruscans, and there are evidences in mummies and skulls that in very ancient times teeth were filled and efforts were made to supply the loss of natural by artificial teeth. The first writer on the treatment of diseased teeth was Galen. The science was introduced into America by John Greenwood, who established himself in New York in 1788. In 1790, and again in 1795, he carved in ivory an entire set of teeth for General Washington.

ON THE BALCONY.

The twilight fell in ashen gray,
O'er Capri's dyke purpled the moon,
The lights were winking on the bay,
A bagpipe droned a drowsy tune.
Anon a tinkling tambourine
Echoed a mimic serenade.
I watched my lady lily lean
Her arm upon the balustrade.

The orange blooms their fragrance shed,
With odors of acacia blent.
Vesuvius reared his sullen head,
Where moonlight sweet enchantment lent.
Below we heard the pattering feet
Grow fainter where the midnight mists
Old Naple's dew. Our pulses beat.
My love had clasped me in her arms.

Souvenirs of Shakespeare.

A collection of Shakespeare relics is now in the possession of Thomas Hornby of Kingsthorpe, by Northampton, says the London Sketch. They were preserved in the house in which Shakespeare was born, which was owned by the descendants of his sister Joan. In 1793 John Hart, sixth in descent from Joan, lost his only child. He then suggested to a kinsman, Thomas Hornby, to rent the house and take over the relics at a valuation. This was done, and Hornby's widow resided in the house until 1820, when she left it in consequence of the then owner increasing her rent. She then moved these relics into a house opposite, where she exhibited them for several years.

Their present owner recently inherited them. They comprise some fine old oak furniture, a lantern, a saw, a quaint deed box and several pictures. A square portrait, quite pretty, is said to represent Shakespeare's sister Judith. An oval portrait is described as that of his daughter Susannah, who married Dr. Hall, but it is more probably that of their daughter Elizabeth, who married Sir John Barnard. We are not in possession of the evidence which connects these articles with the poet, but they are all of Shakespeare's period, or earlier, and it is certain that they were in the birthhouse for many years before the end of the last century.

Moltke and the English Church.

Moltke's wife was of English origin, but in his criticisms on England Mme. Moltke's descent made no difference to the general. When he had to be mounted for some review and the Duke of Wellington provided him with a horse, he wrote to his wife: "The Lord in his wrath made the Duke of Wellington master of the horse. He understands nothing about horses; so he provided me with an animal that had run at the last races. I never rode a more uncomfortable one." In Moltke's letters to his wife and other relatives this description of the service in an English church is described:

"The prayers last for about an hour, in the course of which clergyman and congregation alternately speak. The consequence is that one passes about half the time upon one's knees, which seems an easy task, seeing that one is provided with a good velvet cushion and an easy chair at one's back, but in other respects it is really a chastisement. After these the chapter of the Old Testament was read which describes how Gideon slays the five Amorite kings, puts them in a cave and hangs them on trees, and how many towns he had destroyed, killing the inhabitants to a man, and other certainly not very edifying things of the same character. The sermon comes last of all, quite as an accessory—a rhetorical exercise."

Banana Leaves.

Banana leaves serve many useful purposes, for of them are made tough paper from the thinnest tissue to thickest cardboard, clothing, hats and brushes, mats and hammocks. Millions of pounds of banana fiber, misnamed manilla "hemp," are each year brought to the United States or taken to Europe and spun into cordage from the fineness of silk up through the size of twine to the bigness of mammoth cables, and many dainty handkerchiefs and bits of fine lace have been woven from the fibers of banana leaves by the deft fingers of the women of South America and of the far east.—New York Journal.

An Armenian Bridegroom.

Notwithstanding the Turk, the Armenians still marry, and a writer in Chambers' Journal explains the get up of the groom:

A brawny barber, his arms bare to the elbow, bustles in. His assistant carries a chair, over which is spread a flowered towel. Then enters a procession. The bridegroom, his countenance of ashen pallor (it has been floured for the occasion), totters along, supported by sympathizing friends.

After he is shaved by the barber a variety of costly and wonderful garments are put upon him, all of them gifts from his fair Gemira. Fourteen of the bridegroom's brothers, each holding a candle in the right hand, strip him to the skin and then reclothe him—new undergarments, three green silk waistcoats, a blue silk robe, sash, flowered white satin overcoat, two jackets over that, a long loose blue robe and a new fez. The stockings, however, do not fit and the bridegroom grumbles. Then he kisses my hands and sits down beside me on the divan.

"I suppose you're very happy?" I somewhat infelicitously ask, not knowing how to begin.

He smiles as if in pain.

"You love your bride very much?"

"Very much indeed."

"What's her name?"

"Effendi, I forget."

An Unspeakable Sell.

A resident in Vevay, Switzerland, lately died and bequeathed a large property which he was supposed to possess to the "local hospital of the town."

There being two local medical charities—the town hospital and the Hospice de Samaritan—a lawsuit was entered by the former in order to decide its right to the legacy.

After considerable expense had been incurred the dispute was abruptly brought to a close by the discovery that the deceased had indulged in a most unseasonable jest, and, in fact, did not possess a penny to bequeath.—Pearson's Weekly.

Won't Be Fired.

Mrs. Wearie (who has a French maid)—This is the last time I'll have a servant girl who can't speak English.

Mr. Wearie—Why don't you send her off?

Mrs. Wearie—I've been trying for six weeks, but I can't make her understand what the word "discharge" means. She thinks it means a day off, and when I tell her she is discharged she goes out and has a good time.—Strand Magazine.

Cancer

Mrs. A. H. Crausby, of 158 Kerr St., Memphis, Tenn., paid no attention to a small lump in her breast, but it soon developed into a cancer of the most malignant type. The best physicians in New York treated her, and finally declared her case hopeless. As a last resort, S. S. S. was given, and an immediate improvement resulted; a few bottles cured her completely, and no sign of the disease has returned for ten years.

DANGER IN SODA.

Serious Results Sometimes Follow Its Excessive Use.

Common soda is all right in its place and indispensable in the kitchen and for cooking and washing purposes, but it was never intended for medicine, and people who use it as such will some day regret it.

We refer to the common use of soda to relieve heartburn or sour stomach, a habit which thousands of people practice almost daily, and one which is fraught with danger; moreover the soda only gives temporary relief and in the end the stomach trouble gets worse and worse.

The soda acts as a mechanical irritant to the walls of the stomach and bowels and cases are on record where it accumulated in the intestines, causing death by inflammation or peritonitis.

Dr. Harlandson recommends as the safest and surest cure for sour stomach (acid dyspepsia) an excellent preparation sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. These tablets are large 20 grain lozenges, very pleasant to taste and contain the natural acids, peptones, and digestive elements essential to good digestion, and when taken after meals they digest the food perfectly and promptly before it has time to ferment, sour and poison the blood and nervous system.

Dr. Wuerth states that he invariably uses Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in all cases of stomach derangements and finds them a certain cure not only for sour stomach, but by promptly digesting the food they create a healthy appetite, increase flesh and strengthen the action of the heart and liver. They are not a cathartic, but intended only for stomach diseases and weakness and will be found reliable in any stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach.

All druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at 50 cts. per package.

A little book describing all forms of stomach weakness and their cure mailed free by addressing the Stuart Co. of Marshall, Mich.

PROMOTED.

Some Pennsylvania Railway Clerks Advanced.

The Standard Wheel Works Closed For Good—No Demand For Engineers in Foreign Countries.

A number of promotions occurred in the clerical force at the Pittsburg shops this morning. They are as follows:

C. L. Bassler, from the machine shop office to the shop clerk's office.

L. G. Dailey, from master car builder's down town office to the machine shop.

George J. White, from the east car shop office to succeed Mr. Dailey down town.

Lee Cohen, from tallier at the round house to the place in the east car shop vacated by George White.

C. W. Atwood, from Chicago to the shop clerk's office.

By the creation of a new office at the east shops, several changes, also in the line of promotion, took place out there. Chief among them were the promotion of Nicholas Chasserath, who was the chief timekeeper, to the office of shop order clerk, and the advancement of Claude Keplinger, who was assistant timekeeper, to the head of that department. Daniel A. Marquardt, a clerk in the office, also came in for recognition in the promotions.

All these changes carry with them a handsome increase in salary, and are, besides, an evidence of the appreciation of faithful and efficient service performed by the men who are most deeply effected by them. All are young, ambitious and faithful to duty, and these promotions are doubtless merely stepping stones to something better in the near future.

A Philadelphia paper quotes Frank Thompson, first vice president of the Pennsylvania, as saying: "Nothing has occurred to warrant the statement that Mr. Roberts would resign. While it is true that he has been quite ill, there is no reason for assuming that he will not recover his health. Any statement at the present time that he contemplates retiring from business life is not only premature, but is exceedingly annoying to his friends and also to the gentleman whose name appears as his successor. The whole matter is merely speculation."

HIS EAR SPLIT IN TWO.

Boilermaker Henry Heine, of the Pittsburg shops, had one of his ears split in two by being struck by the sharp end of a boiler flue which was being carried by one of the employes. Dr. Stemen sewed the severed parts of the ear together, and no serious disfigurement is anticipated. Mr. Heine is working as usual.

LEG BROKEN.

John Wagner, an employe of the Pittsburg coal docks, fell off a bank yesterday, and sustained a fracture of the right leg and dislocation of the right ankle. The ambulance was called and the unfortunate man was removed to his home, where the fracture was reduced by Dr. Stemen.

SIX NEW TELEGRAPH OFFICES.

While some of the railway companies are discharging telegraph operators and cutting down operating expenses in various other ways, the Pennsylvania is increasing its efficiency in many ways. The latest move in that direction was the establishment of six night telegraphic offices at the following places: Nevada, Washington, Delphos, Convoy, Kosciusko and Selby. Operators were placed in these offices last night and will continue in the service so long as there is any necessity for keeping the offices open.

THE ELECTRICAL DEAL.

The Electrical Review of the 13th instant contained the following concerning a matter in which Fort Wayne citizens are just now, deeply interested: "The Siemens & Halske—Fort Wayne deal, which the readers of the Electrical Review alone were privileged to see announced last week, is likely to be a formidable competitor for the electrical business of the country. The two large branches of the industry, electric lighting and electric railways, will be the scene of the contest. It is thought in the West that Mr. Samuel Insull, president of the Chicago Edison company, is interested in the new organization. This would undoubtedly strengthen the combination, as Mr. Insull is thoroughly familiar with the manufacturing field."

STOPPED FOREVER.

The machinery in the Standard Wheel works was stopped last Friday never to move again under the present management and it is understood that the buildings and valuable site are for sale. The wheel trade, in days gone by, was a distinctive feature of Fort Wayne's manufacturing interests. It prospered before the trust got hold of it and it is believed by those well informed in such matters that it could still be conducted with profit by any energetic and competent man or firm. A gentleman engaged in the business of buying timber and lumber throughout this and adjacent counties says there is plenty of timber such as is used in the construction of wheels and wagons in this and nearby counties and the owners are only too anxious to dispose of it. The gentleman referred to was a few years ago engaged in buying timber for such purposes and he knows whereof he speaks. He says Fort Wayne offers an excellent field for this business and efforts should be made, he thinks, to get capital interested in this branch of industry.

NOT NEEDED ABROAD.

Rumors occasionally get into circulation to the effect that there is a demand for locomotive engineers in South American countries, Africa, China, Japan or Russia, and immediately every idle man who ever saw the inside of a cab is ready to emigrate. The rumors led the Railway Age to write to the Baldwin Locomotive works, which sold engines to the several countries named, and ascertain the facts in the case, and the letter has been answered as follows: "We are daily in receipt of numerous letters from railway men in all parts of the country desiring employment in foreign countries, especially China, Japan and Russia, as locomotive engineers, firemen, etc. We are compelled to reply to these that we know of no opportunities for American railway men abroad. We believe that you will be doing a great service to railway men to point this out and to emphasize the fact that probably in no foreign country are the wages paid to railroad men equal to those current in the United States. In Mexico, Central America and all of the South American republics, excepting Uruguay, while the normal wages are about the same or slightly higher than those current here, yet the currency is upon a silver or depreciated paper basis worth only from 30 per cent. to 50 per cent. of its face value. Railways in Uruguay are of small mileage and are in English control. There is no opportunity for Americans there. Japan has recently retired from its service all foreigners employed upon its railways, with, we believe, one single exception, viz: Mr. Trevithick, who has charge of the shops at Kobe, and who is at present engaged in the construction of new locomotives. China has barely begun railway construction. The single existing line is in English hands, and, we believe, is fully supplied with an English and native staff.

"We believe that, taking into consideration the lower standard of living in all the foreign countries mentioned, the lower real value of the wages paid, and the other obvious disadvantages of employment abroad, it is desirable to discourage the disposition of Americans to seek such employment. We believe this disposition results principally from a spirit of unrest or desire for adventure and is due alone to ignorance of what is actually involved."

MINOR MENTION.

Pittsburg Engineer John Money is on the sick list.

George Montgomery, an operator of an axle lathe in the Wabash shops, is sick and off duty.

L. Gronau has taken his place again in the Pittsburg planing mills after an illness of two weeks.

One of the large windows in the Pittsburg boiler shop was blown in by the heavy wind yesterday.

A. Tussler, an employe of the Pittsburg shops, is kept from his duty by the serious illness of his wife.

Henry Dannmeyer and Casper Lehmkuler, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, are off duty on account of sickness.

Pittsburg Engineers Lease and Campbell, who had been on the sick list, were able to take their respective runs out today.

T. J. Foley has returned to the city after making a tour of the Panhandle road, which occupied his time for three or four days.

In December the membership of the railroad branch of the Young Men's Christian association at Logansport increased twenty-six.

There are three pay days this week. The Electric Lights on Wednesday, the Wabash on Thursday, and the Nickel Plate on Friday.

James Noecker, for many years a passenger brakeman on the Pittsburg road, has retired from that position to engage in some other business.

D. F. Hitchcock, conductor of a local train running between Lima and Crestline, spent several hours with his friends in this city last Saturday.

General Passenger Agent Townsend, of the Missouri Pacific, is advertising his line by publishing a piece of music entitled "Beauties of Our Line."

Ed. Davis, who has had charge of the engine room at the Standard Wheel works for several years, will take a position with S. F. Bowser & Co. in a few days.

E. F. Kohlmeyer, a railway man, spent Sunday with his brother in this city. He is now stationed at Grand Rapids, where he holds a responsible position.

Medical Examiner E. F. Wagner, of the Pennsylvania Voluntary Relief association, will leave for Cleveland this evening to be absent until Wednesday evening.

Supt. Walton, of the Panhandle, who came here as usual last Saturday to spend Sunday with his family, is confined to his room by a severe attack of la grippe.

Robert Morrison, after a residence of over two years at Defiance, Ohio, has returned to the city and resumed a position in the east car shops. Mr. Morrison is a painter by trade.

The western roads have agreed that after February 1 next they will stop the sale of railway settlers' tickets and all rates based thereon to all points in the south and southwest.

H. Tresselt, a carpenter employed in the Pittsburg car shops, is suffering with a felon or some kindred malady, on the right hand and has been unable to work for some days.

Fireman Levi Crable, of the Grand Rapids road, is off duty on account of sickness. Fireman E. F. Nickolis, of the same road, is taking a lay-off to look after some private business.

Word from New York is to the effect that the Joint Traffic association has decided to reduce the freight rates on grain between Chicago and New York from 20 to 15 cents per 100 pounds.

Mr. Snyder, foreman of the blacksmith shop at Crestline, Ohio, was the guest of his son and other relatives here over Sunday. Years ago Mr. Snyder resided in this city and was employed in the Pittsburg shops.

A bill requiring separate coaches for colored people, was introduced in the South Carolina house last week and the indications are that it will become a law. The railroads have been fighting such legislation for years.

A. J. Huber and G. Meyers are the only absentees from the Pittsburg planing mills today. Mr. Huber's brother-in-law is dead and Mr. Meyers has private business which engages his attention for a day or two.

Up to date thirty-two passenger conductors on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas have been discharged as a result of investigation by a spotter in the guise of a telegraph operator who has been watching the conductors for four months.

Cliff Ellenwood, passenger conductor of the Pittsburg road, has gone to Washington, D. C., to testify in an important suit in which the Pennsylvania company is an interested party. During Mr. Ellenwood's absence Conductor Joe Morgan will run trains 15 and 8.

Wesley Walton is lying at the home of his father, Horace Walton, suffering from a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism. For some months Wesley has been employed as messenger in the office of his uncle, Superintendent C. H. Walton, of the Panhandle, at Logansport.

The wind yesterday broke down one of the safety gates at the railway crossing of the Pittsburg and Watchman Patrick Lanigan had to "come off his perch" and adopt the old method of waving a red flag to warn passers-by of the approach of a train. The gates were again in operation by 10 o'clock.

No. 35, the big Vandalia engine, has been transferred to the western division and took a long string of cars to Chicago today. Her crew is the same as the one which had charge of the mammoth locomotive on the middle division of the road, being Engineer George Miller and Fireman F. M. Ensley.

Indications are that the competition between the trolley linemen and the air motormen in the matter of equipping the electric or motor power lines on portions of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton will be very sharp, and so much is at stake the railroad company will likely get its equipment at a very reasonable cost.

An attorney who is informed concerning the affairs of the Baltimore and Ohio says the prospects of the road soon coming out of the hands of the receivers are not as good as a few weeks ago. The statement is made that the company cannot be reorganized without the levying of an assessment of 40 per cent. upon the stock, and to raise money from that source will be a slow process.

Trainmaster Harris, of the northern division of the Grand Rapids and Indiana road, has tendered his resignation to take effect February 1. On that date he becomes division superintendent, of one of northern Michigan's railways. Mr. Harris has been a frequent visitor in this city and his numerous friends here will be pleased to learn of his good fortune. His successor in the office of trainmaster has not yet been announced.

As a result of taking the duty of employing enginemen from the hands of Master Mechanic C. H. Doebler, of the Wabash, and placing it upon Superintendent E. A. Gould, it became necessary to reduce the clerical force in the former's office. With that object in view Frank E. Cummings, a telegraph operator, has been retired and Charles A. Hartman, the shop clerk, who is also an operator, has taken the position at the key and E. A. Collett has been placed in the shop office.

WALLACE BRUCE.

Two Thousand Yale Alumni in Alumni Hall, June 24, 1896.

I have heard the after dinner speaking of the Yale alumni dinners for nearly twenty-one years but I never have heard a speech which was received with greater and more prolonged applause, and which went so through and through the heart and life of the representatives of this great university, as that of Wallace Bruce referring to the ivy incident. It seems to me that you ought to have heard the applause down there in Atlanta which greeted this speech. I should say that Chauncey Depew must have blistered his hands.—Atlanta Constitution.

The Companion Calendar.

It is said that the expense of making the Companion Art Calendar for 1897 was so great that had it been published in the usual quantity it could not be sold for less than one dollar. Four beautiful female figures are reproduced on four folding pages. Each figure is lithographed in twelve colors, being a true reproduction of the original water-color painting, which was selected because of its excellence of design and charm of color and tone. The size of each of the four folding pages is 10¾ inches by 6 inches.

It is by far the best piece of color work the Companion has ever offered. Both as a calendar and as a gem of the lithographer's art, it is so attractive that it becomes a valuable addition to the mantel or centre-table of any room. It is given free to all new subscribers sending $1.75 to the Companion for the year 1897, who receive also the paper free from the time the subscription is received till January 1, 1897.

Celebrating in 1897 its seventy-first birthday, the Companion offers its readers many exceptionally brilliant features. Fully two hundred of the most famous men and women of both continents have contributed to the next year's volume of the paper. For free illustrated prospectus address,

CHAS. S. BASH

Takes Advantage of a Good Thing.

Receives Great Relief by the Use of Hirons' New Asthma and Cough Cure.

Catarrh, one of the most troublesome and dangerous diseases known to mankind, can in the large majority of cases, be permanently cured. Many who were victims to that disease have been cured, and many more are being cured. Double treatment for Catarrh does its work effectually; clearing it out of the head, driving it out of the blood, where it exists, and ever will exist, unless the health destroying virus is eradicated from the system. Cure it. For it is not only a constant discomfort, but a perpetual menace to life. Use the New Asthma and Cough Cure as the blood purifier, and the Speedy Catarrh Cure for the nasal treatment for Catarrh, and soon those troublesome and distressing symptoms will disappear. The constant dripping of the mucous into the throat, and the pain in the head will cease. The hearing, sight, smell, and taste will be restored. Remember that a disease of long standing, one that has grown until it permeates every drop of blood in the body, cannot be cured within a few days or weeks, though the cleansing and healing processes begin with the first use of the two medicines.

HIRONS NEW ASTHMA AND COUGH CURE.

Asthma is a contraction of the nerves connected with the lungs, and is produced by three causes. First, by a sensitive area of mucous membrane. Second, an abnormally sensitive nerve center, and third, by an external irritant. With all three of these factors simultaneously, an attack of Asthma is produced. The disease often arises from Heart trouble, nasal catarrh and dyspepsia. Some of the symptoms, short, quick, difficult breathing, wheezing, with spells of coughing and suffocation. Asthma is supposed by some to be incurable, but the use of a few bottles of Hiron's New Asthma and Cough Cure will prove to the contrary.

Chas. S. Bash Testifies.

"Hirons Medicine Co.:

"DEAR SIRS: I was suffering intensely with catarrh and hay fever. Acting on your advice I tried your remedies and will state that I have received great relief from the use of your double treatment for Catarrh.

"Yours truly,
"C. S. BASH.
"President Mayflower Mills."

A Word From One of the Oldest Settlers in Allen County.

Mr. Henry Volland, sr., proprietor of Volland's Flouring Mills, makes this statement: "I have had asthma ten years. The disease was contracted by inhaling the dust during my work in the mill. I have used different remedies but received no relief until I heard of Hirons' New Asthma and Cough Cure. I have used several bottles of the remedy and will say that I have not enjoyed as good health for years as I do at the present time.

[Signed.] "HENRY VOLLAND, SR."

Testimonial From Ex-Judge of the Superior Court of Allen County.

Hirons Medicine Co., City.

Having been a great sufferer from that most distressing disease, asthma, and having used your Asthma Remedy for the last few months, I can certify very cheerfully, that it has afforded me great relief, and I feel confident that in the majority of cases, will accomplish a permanent cure.

Respectfully yours,
A. A. CHAPIN.

A Happy Man, Who Sleeps Well Now.

Louis Gerbke, connected with Pottlitzer Bro's Fruit company, states as follows: "I have had asthma for eighteen years. I could not sleep in my bed for weeks at a time. I was advised by a friend who had been cured by Hirons' Remedies, to try their New Asthma and Cough Cure. After using the remedy a short time, I slept as well as I ever did, and am now enjoying excellent health.

[Signed.] "LOUIS GERBKE,
"49 West Williams Street."

Nearly $100 Expended With No Permanent Relief.

William Helwig, with the J. F. Schell Loan and Investment Company, states that he has spent about $100 for remedies for catarrh, but never found anything so beneficial as Hirons Double Treatment for Catarrh, and that he has not been so well for a year as he is at the present time. He cheerfully recommends these remedies to all suffering from this dread disease.

[Signed.]
WM. HELWIG.

Has Not Wheezed for Over Three Years.

Mr. Frank Joly, the well known Columbia street grocer, makes this statement over his signature: "I contracted Asthma about twelve years ago while working in a damp cellar. Many nights during that time I had to be propped up on my pillow in order that I might breathe. I used many remedies but received no permanent relief. Three years ago I tried Hirons' New Asthma and Cough Cure, and after having used two bottles of the remedy I was entirely cured. I have never wheezed since.

"[Signed.] FRANK JOLY,
"70 E. Columbia St."

Did You Notice It?

The proof that the Plectrophone attachment is the most valuable and durable improvement in Pianos made in recent years, is the fact that manufacturers and dealers are constantly getting up all sorts of imitations.

The original attachment is to be found only in the Everett. Better buy the original. No one is satisfied with an imitation.

Miss Lee Long.
Chorus—"Credo in unum Deum."..Mercadante.
Cathedral Choir.
Accompanists: Mrs. F. E. Stouder, Mr. Henry Krull, Prof. E. M. Noll.

The organ solo, "The Thunderstorm," to be rendered by Professor Noll, is a descriptive number. It represents a little village on the morning of "The Fair." The following synopsis shows the incidents: Break of dawn; villagers appear on the streets; noise of daily business life; festivities begin; a highland pipe enlivens the scene; a storm approaches; flashes of lightning; distant peals of thunder; gradually becoming louder; furious rage of the elements; storm abates; the scattered revellers venture out; a hymn of thanksgiving.

The Wayne Produce Co. will receive tomorrow 1 car load Greenings and 1 car load Baldwin Apples. Telephone 492.

SLOW TO SPEAK.

But It Finally Leaked Out.

There is an amount of pleasure in winning commendation as a recognition of merit. The same satisfaction one has in finally winning a customer who has been prejudiced in the start. In New York a certain wholesale grocer and manufacturer has gained a national reputation as a commissseur of foods and drinks. We might as well give his name, then you will also know whether we have rightly spoken of Mr. Hazard, he of Shrewsbury Katsup fame and the maker of a list of the choicest specialties in the food line in the world. Mr. Hazard was requested to make a test of Postum Cereal Food Coffee at his private table, but demurred on the grounds that he had tried three kinds of coffee "substitutes" and he had all of that kind of experience he wanted. Learning that Postum was not offered as a "substitute" but stood on its own basis as a pure health food drink, claiming to have the color of Mocha, and a delicious pungent piquant taste, all its own but very much like the milder grades of Java, and that it was made of the gluten and phosphates of cereals he concluded to make trial of it. The following morning he reported that "Mrs. Hazard had taken a great fancy to Postum," but would give no opion one way or the other of how Mr. Hazard regarded it. The fourth or fifth morning after, he was moving around from desk to desk in their great office on Hudson street, when one of the oldest travelers of the house said: "Mr. Hazard, I hear you have tried Postum Cereal Food Coffee, what is there in it?" "Well, I'll tell you George, this is the fifth morning I've had it for my breakfast, and it is on my table for good. It's the finest thing on earth for a breakfast beverage. Coffee meets the taste of many people and Postum will meet the taste of as many more and keep them for friends; it don't abuse them as coffee does some people, Postum is all right, you can depend on it."

It would be difficult to find higher authority in the world. Postum is made largely of the gluten of the cereals and contains no other ingredient than the products of the pure grains. It appeals to the need of the brain workers who are frequently troubled to digest coffee. It truly "makes red blood," and builds in the parts needed to replace the lost gray matter in the nerve cells. Postum comes in 15 and 25 cent packages, and is, now-a-days, a part of the stock of every well conducted grocery in the North. It is widely and steadily advertised which, together with its unbounded merit has built up a great business. The works of the Postum Cereal Co., Lim., are at Battle Creek, Mich., and all prominent jobbers carry it.

There is but one original Postum Food Coffee, see the red seals on packages. "It makes Red Blood." There are many imitations offered as "just as good."
